

What is stewardship?

The short answer:
Stewardship is anything and everything to do with resource protection within Sapelo Island NERR's boundaries and elsewhere on Sapelo Island.

This includes:

- Land management
- Habitat Restoration
- Nature-based infrastructure
- Public access and usage
- Habitat monitoring
- Geospatial services & mapping
- Volunteer management
- Sustainability efforts

Follow Sapelo Island NERR

@sapelonerr

Friends of Sapelo:
FriendsOfSapelo.org

Stewardship Program

Why is Stewardship important?

The Sapelo Island National Estuarine Research Reserve mission is to safeguard the natural integrity of the Reserve for the purpose of creating a stable environment for research and education

Upper right:
The creation of a living shoreline at Ashantilly dock

Center:
Solar-powered rain harvesting system installation at Long Tabby admin building

Left:
Dean Creek saltmarsh, adjacent to the SINERR long-term water quality and marsh health stations

Bottom Right:
Friends of Sapelo members at a beach cleanup

Contact:

Colby Pepper

Stewardship Program Coordinator

colby.pepper@dnr.ga.gov

Reach out to Stewardship Coordinator to:

Learn about internships
and short-term contract positions

*
Request geospatial data

*
Partner on habitat restoration and nature-based infrastructure projects

Volunteer with Friends of Sapelo to be involved in:

Citizen Science

*
Native Garden

*
Trail Crews

*
Beach Clean-ups

How can I get involved?

